

Tennis US Open In Flushing

Friday, August 25th (2 pm – 8 pm)

The best time to enjoy the U.S. Open is before the tournament even starts. This is an awesome and unforgettable experience to see the best tennis players in the world up close.

You may spot Federer, Nadal, Nishikori, Madison Key, Venus Williams practice or playing games against other top talent. You'll have the best view of the game and players. The qualifying rounds, which are played the week before the tournament starts, are more enjoyable than the actual U.S. Open. It's less crowded, very intimate, and guaranteed seats!

Appreciate walking up to a match and enjoy watching the best in the world from a first front row premier seat. Maybe you'll even catch a practice ball from Federer. You can roam freely and visit all the courts.

Register for the event, so you'll be on Alice's (organizer) email distribution or WhatsUp list to be in the know of who's playing where.

When: Fri Aug 25th; 2 PM

Where: Outside of US Open entrance at the round plaza with benches. As soon as you get off subway or LIRR and over the walk way, you'll get to the round plaza before the entrance

Know before you go: what NOT to bring and other useful info:

http://www.usopen.org/en_US/event_guide/know_before_you_go.html?promo=subnav

How to get there: Subway: The 7 train provides easy service from Grand Central Terminal to Mets-Willets Point Station (allow for about 40 min of travel time)

Long Island Rail Road: from Penn Station to Mets-Willets Point Station (about 30 min)

Or see http://www.usopen.org/en_US/event_guide/transportation_directions.html

Hard core fans, please email usopen@swisskiclub.org a couple of days in advance for an even earlier meetup in the morning.

We may have dinner at a terrific restaurant in Flushing after the grounds close.

How much for this amazing experience? Priceless (the event is FREE!)
